

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

WEDNESDAY, April 19. : : : 1882.

TERMS OF THE NEWS AND HERALD.
The weekly edition, four dollars per annum, in advance; weekly edition, two dollars and fifty cents per annum, in advance. Liberal discount to clubs of five and upwards.
RATES OF ADVERTISING.—One dollar per line for the first insertion, and fifty cents per line for each subsequent insertion. These rates apply to all advertisements of whatever nature and are payable strictly in advance. (Contracts for three, six or twelve months made on very liberal terms. Transient local notices, fifteen cents per line for the first insertion and seven and one-half cents per line for each subsequent insertion. Obituaries and tributes of respect charged as advertisements. Simple announcements of marriages and deaths published free of charge and solicited.
All communications, of whatever nature, should be addressed to the Winnsboro Publishing Company, Winnsboro, S. C.

New Advertisements.
Spring Opening—J. L. Minnaugh, Machinery—J. F. McMaster & Co., Family and Farm—J. H. Cummings, Sale and Feed Stable—A. Williford, Great Attractions—C. Bouknight, E. & Co.
Once More to the Front—M. L. Kinard.

Local Briefs.
—Pipes are selling in town at a dollar and a half per peck.
—Mr. J. F. Brown paid Winnsboro a flying visit last week.
—The steamer doesn't create much excitement as it formerly did.
—What would the clerks do if it wasn't for horse-shoes?—"Keep 'em dry."

—School teachers certificates bought, and cash paid for the same, by T. W. Landreale.
—W. B. Whites, treasurer of Newberry county, has left the State, a defaulter to the amount of about eight thousand dollars.

—The congregation of the Methodist church propose having a hot supper for the benefit of the poor.
—The Columbia companies—Winnsboro's Guard and the Richmond—have been notified by the Governor to join the last-named company in their anniversary celebration.
—We are requested to state that the hot supper for the benefit of the Methodist church will be given on Wednesday evening the 26th of this month, at the Baptist hall. Everybody knows what a Methodist supper is, so prepare your pockets.

THE TWELFTH REGIMENT.—The survivors of the Twelfth South Carolina Volunteers in the late war, are requested to meet in Winnsboro on Saturday, April 22nd, at 12 m. A full attendance is desired.

MULES AND HORSES.—Mr. A. Williford has just received a carload of Western mules and horses—among them some good saddle and harness horses—which he will sell cheap for cash, or on satisfactory paper. He will also take other stock in exchange, allowing the highest prices for the same. Farmers and others wishing to buy stock will find it to their interest to call on Mr. Williford at once. He means business.

DEATH OF MR. T. E. CLOUD.—Mr. T. E. Cloud, of Ridgeway, died at Cleveland Springs, N. C., on Saturday last. The remains were taken to Ridgeway on Sunday's train. Mr. Cloud had gone to the Springs for his health, and we understand that his illness was but a short one. He was about forty years of age, and had been for some years a successful merchant at Ridgeway. He leaves a large circle of friends to mourn his loss.

FRESH GROCERIES.—Mr. J. H. Cummings has in store a fresh stock of staple and fancy groceries, which the lovers of good things should take the earliest opportunity to examine. Groceries are things you can't easily do without, so everyone must take a look at them. Among the special attractions which Mr. Cummings' stock presents are: Pearl Safety Oil, 155 degrees, fire test, costing but little more than ordinary kerosene; Malby's coconut; Swinburn's gelatine; evaporated apples; tobacco and cigars in great variety, among the latter being the "Electric Light," at five cents a piece. Mr. Cummings' new advertisement, giving full information, appears in this issue.

C. BOUKNIGHT, EXR., & CO.—This is the firm name of a well known business house in Columbia, whose advertisement will be found in another column. The stock of goods now on hand will be found to contain every variety of the several lines of articles desired by customers. Messrs. Bouknight & Co. have been a long time in business, and they have established a name all over the State for enterprise and fair dealing. Their prices will always compare with the lowest, and their customers may feel sure of the most careful attention to their wishes and tastes. We bespeak for the house a liberal share of the public patronage.

CONVENTIONS IN MAY.—The various religious bodies of the South will meet as follows, during the month of May:
The General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, meets in Nashville, Tennessee, May 24.
The General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church meets in Atlanta, Ga., May 18th.

The Southern Baptist Convention will meet in Greenville, S. C., on or about the 10th of May.
The General Synod, South, of the Evangelical Lutheran Church meets in Charlotte, N. C., May 18th.

The Diocesan Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of South Carolina meets in Spartanburg May 10th.

NEWS FROM THE WEST.—A correspondent writing from Flomery Mound, Concordia Parish, La., April 8, says: "A gleam of hope is again to be seen on the faces of our unfortunate people. The overflow, after reaching its maximum on the 30th ult.—being three feet above the mark of 1874—began to recede, and at this writing has made about fifteen inches in the aggregate; and the prospect now is that we may be able to plant by the 15th of May. To plant at this time, with an average crop, we can do with a favorable season. We look upon the present as an important era in the history of this country. The subject of improvement of the Mississippi river has been a matter of serious discussion for some time, and if the present overflow does not bring up National aid in reclaiming the alluvial valley, and the improvement of the great "father of waters," we will be compelled to give up our last-worked-for homes, and seek others, to our great discomfort. We believe the national government is able, and it is its duty, to protect this rich valley from overflow, as it would furnish homes for thousands, on the richest lands the sun ever shone upon—the revenues of which would be immense. We anxiously look forward to the time for the work to begin."

EASTER ELECTION.—At the regular annual meeting of the congregations of St. John's Church, of Winnsboro, and St. Stephen's, of Ridgeway, held on Easter Monday, the following officers were elected:
Wardens—W. R. Robertson, H. A. Gaillard.
Vestrymen—Dr. R. B. Hamilton, Dubose Eggleston, W. N. Chandler, C. S. Dwight, Jno. S. Reynolds, Chas. E. Thomas, R. S. Desportes.
Delegates to Diocesan Convention—W. R. Robertson, C. S. Dwight, J. R. Thomas, R. S. Desportes.

At a meeting of the vestry of St. John's Church, Judge Robertson was unanimously elected chairman, and Mr. W. N. Chandler secretary and treasurer.

New Advertisements.—Mr. M. L. Kinard, of Columbia, has just received his new spring stock of clothing and gentlemen's furnishing goods, and persons in want of such articles will do well to read his new advertisement published in another column. The stock on hand will be found even more than usually attractive, and everything will be sold at the lowest living prices. Mr. Kinard has a fine stock of goods, selected especially to meet the wants of his Carolina patrons, and he guarantees satisfaction.

Mr. J. L. Minnaugh, of the "Angus Store," is as usual up to time, and he can now show the public as well-selected a stock of goods as can be found anywhere. He has removed to his store all the goods remaining of the stock of Mr. F. Elder, which he will close out at the lowest possible figures. Go and see him.

THE TOWNS FINANCES.—The following is the final statement of the town clerk and treasurer for the municipal year ending April 10, 1882:

RECEIPTS.
Balance from old account.....$ 609 25
From taxes and licenses.....1,155 25
From rent of market.....135 25
From fines and licenses.....174 50
From taxes.....1,246 97
From all other sources.....235 68
Total Receipts.....$3,621 65

EXPENDITURES.
For streets and bridges.....$ 798 80
For regular and special police.....549 00
For lamp-lighters.....240 00
For printing.....75 00
For street lamps, oil, etc.....149 82
Work on public buildings.....22 88
Work on public wells.....22 88
F. F. E. Company.....21 00
Hook and Ladder Co.....17 75
Steam Fire Engine.....650 00
Transporting Fire Engine.....43 00
Coal and wood.....82 02
Keeper of clock.....60 00
Dr. Hamilton, vaccinating physician.....20 00
Managers of Election.....34 60
Incidental expenses.....206 13
Clerk of Council.....100 00
Balance.....27 50
Total.....$3,621 65

THE SIXTH REGIMENT.—The Fairfield Division, Sixth Regiment, S. C. V., Survivors' Association, met in the Town Hall on Tuesday, the 11th inst. Vice-President T. W. Woodward in the chair. After reading the minutes of the last meeting the following officers were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

President—T. W. Woodward.
Vice-President—S. R. Johnston.
Secretary and Treasurer—W. H. Kerr.
Corresponding Secretary—W. F. Jackson.

On motion of Col. Rion, the treasurer was authorized and instructed to forward to Dr. Woodward the sum of $25.00 to defray the expense of publishing the pamphlet containing the address of the Rev. Dr. W. E. Buggs before the Association at its reunion in Chester, August 4, 1881.

On motion, Messrs. R. F. Martin, H. A. Gaillard and W. H. Kerr were appointed a committee to prepare suitable resolutions in regard to the death of the late William H. Williams.

After some discussion, it was resolved that the dinner at the reunion in August next at this place shall be open only to the survivors of the Sixth Regiment, S. C. V., and that the corresponding secretary be instructed to communicate with the captains of companies out of the county and ascertain the number of members who will attend the reunion, and report at the next meeting.

Capt. H. A. Gaillard proposed the name of John Hamilton, colored, who served as a servant with Dr. Buggs during the war for membership. Being unanimously elected, the president appointed Captain Gaillard and David C. Aiken a committee to notify him of his election.

The Association then adjourned to meet in the Town Hall on the 11th day of July next, at 11 o'clock, a. m.

THE CROP PROSPECT.
A cheering outlook for the grain crop in South Carolina—Other Interesting Information.

The Columbia Register of Sunday has the following:
Commissioner Butler has prepared an estimate based upon 136 reports from every county in the State, except Richland, showing that 201,816 acres have been planted in wheat for the present year, against 166,570 acres in 1881. This is an increase of 35,246 acres, or twenty per cent. over last year. The estimated average yield per acre is 35 bushels, the cost of production is $3.45, and the price per bushel $1.70 on March 1st, 1881, giving a profit of $8.48 per acre. The local increase in wheat will produce, if an average yield is obtained, 278,563 bushels, worth $188,183.68. From the same sources it is ascertained that 392,373 acres have been planted in corn, against 208,243 acres in 1881—an increase of 184,130 acres, or 40 per cent. The estimated average yield of corn per acre is eighteen bushels, the cost of production

$1.17, giving $12.29 as the profit per acre. This increased average will produce 1,872,362 bushels, and at the average price obtained of ninety-two cents will give $2,222,571.20. The grain is expected to be correspondingly abundant in a remarkably good condition, and with favorable seasons will harvest the yield will be maintained.

With reference to the Department estimate that 75,452 tons have been used this year against 83,432 tons in 1881—a decrease of 7,980 tons, or 10.58 per cent. This decrease represents, at $55 per ton, a value of $437,900 saved in the expense of producing the crop.

A significant fact noted by the correspondents is that farmers are using more phosphates and less ammoniated fertilizers than formerly, showing more attention paid to compost and home-made manures.

The fruit crop in all the counties is reported as very promising and miles injured by the frosts in April the yield will be abundant.

The cotton crop is reported good, and less difficulty experienced in procuring laborers than for several years past. The laborers are reported as working well, and with the exception of some few localities in some counties, they are satisfied and contented. In some of the upper counties they show a disposition to emigrate.

About the same time, established himself on Water Creek, near the present plantation of Colonel Peay.

The chief concern of this District was the Broad, the Indian name of which was somewhat of a lawbreaker, Edward Paden, which is navigable, the whole extent of the District; and the Waters, which takes its name of the Carolina immediately above the point where it receives the waters of Water Creek, the tributary conferring its own name on the lower section of the main stream. This junction of Creek with river, and change of name, take place 35 miles above the division line of the State.

The lands on Water Creek are noted for their fertility. The villages, besides that of Winnsboro, are especially described, in my letter, and the Broad, the river of Grimskeville, commanding a fine view of the Catawba River; Monticello, between Little River and Wilkinson; and the Broad River, with an Academy, (now or late), slightly endowed by Mr. Jefferson; Long Town, a few miles from the Water River, on a high ridge, 20 miles from Winnsboro, a place of some resort, and Broad River Academy, 8 miles below Monticello.

Among the natural curiosities of the District are the Elephant Rock, a tall, isolated, and in its resemblance to the ivory-tusked animal; and the Anvil Rock, a large boulder from the left side of the river, and which, in the Winnsboro, the anvil rock rises in the midst of a field, to the height of some 9 or 10 feet, and presents a very peculiar appearance.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.

There is another rock in the District, some miles west of Winnsboro, near the side of the public road to Kinard's Bridge, over Little River to Monticello, which has lately cut a caper quite as extraordinary, but is more recent, and than that attributed to the Anvil Rock, and given rise to a learned and philosophical controversy, which, combined with the unvarnished phenomenon, is a fine specimen of the work of the Almighty.